News Bulletin–18 February

With Easter just 2 weeks away, it is a timely reminder that Term 1 is drawing to a close already. Last classes for Term 1 are on Thursday, 1st April. Term 2 starts on 19th April.

But before term break, some housekeeping to note...

By now, we should all have been able to assess our commitments and class schedules to decide what courses to stay with (or withdraw from) for the remaining year.

Over the past couple of weeks, several tutors have approached the office to remove members who have not attended classes for the last 3 weeks (some have never made it to class since start of term!). If this applies to you, please check your enrolments prior to your return in case you are no longer enrolled.

On a different note; for members who were unable to get into some of our very popular classes, you may be interested to know that during the course of this term, we were lucky enough to have secured some larger halls. With the tutors willing to take in more participants, we now have some vacancies that may be of interest to you:

- Experienced Line Dancing class (Led by Cassiely Chuah)
We are fortunate to secure the large Sports Hall at Southern Community Centre. This is a beautiful hall for dancing and Cassiely has kindly opened her class to take in more dancers. Classes are on Mondays, starting at 9:45am till 11am.
- Tai Chi (Led by Eddie Chew)
Now at Mulgrave Community Centre in the large hall. This class has some vacancies following some recent withdrawals due to non-attendance. Classes are on Thursdays starting at 11:45am for an hour.
- Yoga (Led by Annie Yang)
Now also at the large hall at Mulgrave Community Centre following directly after Tai Chi. Annie has also kindly opened her class to accommodate more members. Classes are held on Thursdays starting at 1pm for an hour.

Please visit our website and check out other availabilities. Don't miss out on getting into some or more of our classes and the opportunity to learn something new!

Happy Easter and stay safe! (Can't say I'm looking forward to colder days though!)

Ann Findlay, President
